NOMADS

For nomads, being on the move is part of everyday life. Some move to look for food for their animals or themselves, others travel to buy and sell things. Actually, there are not many nomads left in the world nowadays but some nomadic people still survive.

The Reindeer People

The Sami live in northern Scandinavia. Most of them now have 'normal' jobs in towns and cities but some carry on their traditional way of life. In early summer they go on a long journey north with their reindeers. The Sami take them far into the Arctic Circle to find grass and plants to eat. When autumn begins, they take the reindeers south again. Nowadays, the Sami use snowmobiles and mobile phones when they are looking after their animals. However, they still wear their colourful costumes and sing their traditional songs.

Desert Survivors

The word 'Bedouin' means 'desert inhabitant'. Many Bedouins live in towns in Arabia and North Africa but some still make trips into the desert to get food for their camels. The camels, or 'ships of the desert', carry everything and provide food (milk and meat) and shelter (wool for tents).

Bedouin hospitality is famous: they give strangers food and water. Bedouins know many tricks to find water. For example, when they see insects or birds, they know water is near.

Sea Gypsies

The Moken are often called 'sea gypsies'. Some follow their traditional lifestyle in the coastal areas of Thailand and Myanmar. During the rainy season, when the sea is rough, they live in huts on the beach but for the rest of the year they live on their boats. They catch seafood and sell it in fishing villages. Moken children learn to swim before they can walk. They can see underwater twice as clearly as the rest of us and can stay underwater twice as long! The Moken people know the sea very well – before the tsunami in 2005, they left the sea and looked for high ground.

THE DANCE

Every Saturday night, the factory social club organized a dance at the local sports club. Maggie Tool always went with her best friend Anna and Anna's boyfriend. Maggie never had a date and didn't get many dances, either.

One Saturday after work, Anna said as usual, „Be ready at seven, Mag.“

„Thanks, but a friend is taking me tonight,“ she replied.

Anna, the best-looking girl in the factory, was curious about her best friend's date. Most of the boys thought Maggie was plain.

„You'll meet him tonight!“ said Maggie.

At 8.30 p.m., Maggie came into the hall with her date.

„Look at him! Isn't he handsome? I'm so pleased for Maggie,“ Anna said to her boyfriend.

„Meet Terry O'Sullivan.“ Maggie introduced her tall, dark-haired friend.

All the girls wanted to dance with Terry and the boys suddenly became interested in Maggie. Terry danced with Maggie and then had a dance with Dempsey Donovan's date. Dempsey was the leader of the sports club and the best boxer. Dempsey went up to Terry.

„So, where are you from?“ asked Dempsey aggressively. „We've never seen you around here before.“

„Mind your own business,“ replied Terry.

Dempsey nodded to two men standing nearby. They took Terry to the back room of the club.

Meanwhile, Maggie was talking with a friend and she didn't see this. Then she started to look for Terry.

„He's gone to fight with Dempsey,“ a girl told her.

„Oh no!“ Maggie ran to the back room. She was worried about the fight. She saw Dempsey and Terry facing each other. Maggie ran between them and caught Terry's arm. A knife fell to the floor.

„Knives are banned in the sports club and so are people carrying them,“ said Dempsey.

„Get out!?“

Two men took him out. Maggie walked up to Dempsey. She was crying.

„He's Italian and his real name is Tony Spinelli. I knew that before. I told him to call himself O' Sullivan. I was tired of coming on my own and Tony was really nice. But I came here as soon as I heard about the fight. I was frightened of problems „cos I know the Italians carry knives. I guess I'll have to leave the club now.“

„No, Mag. I'll take you home. And how about next Saturday night? Will you come to the dance with me?“ Maggie's eyes sparkled.

„With you, Dempsey? You bet I will!“

TRADITIONAL COMMUNITIES

Scottish clans are group of people with the same surname as their clan chief, for example, Macdonald or Campbell. Each clan has its own „tartan“ – a coloured pattern used for kilts. Clans began in the Scottish Highlands in the Middle Ages when people accepted the protection and authority of their local chief.

Nowadays, clan members live all over the world but annual gatherings are still held in Scotland. For example, every year Macraes from different counties go back to Scotland. They first visit the „gathering stone“ where the clan met up in the past before going into battle. After that, they tour famous places where the clan fought the English.

The next day they attend the local highland games. All the men wear Macrae kilts and carry banners while the Macrae band plays bagpipe music. In the evening, a banquet is held in the magnificent castle in Eilean Donan. Finally, there is traditional Scottish dancing and singing until late in the night.

The Maoris came from Polynesia and colonised the uninhabited islands of New Zealand over a thousand years ago. There are now 526,000 Maoris in New Zealand which has a total population of just over four million.

Every Maori belongs to a large family group and each group has its own community centre with various buildings. The main building is the meeting house and is decorated in traditional Maori style. On the roof, there is a large carved figure of an important ancestor. Community centres are the focus of Maori culture and older Maoris pass on Maori traditions to young people here: songs, stories, dances, carving and traditional Polynesian cooking. People of European origin can only visit them with permission.

Weddings, christenings and funerals are held in the meeting house as well as formal ceremonies. At these events, local elders give speeches and younger Maoris perform songs and dances.

Maori war dances, or „hakas“, are world famous; the New Zealand rugby team performs one before every game. Hakas can look and sound aggressive. They were used in the past when one tribe met another to find out if the other tribe was peaceful or was looking for a fight!

HIDDEN TALENT

1. Computer Countess

Ada, Countess of Lovelace (1815-1852) was the beautiful daughter of the English poet, Lord Byron. When she was eighteen, she saw a 'calculating machine' – a primitive computer – and talked to its inventor, Charles Babbage. Ada was fascinated and began to work with him. She thought of mathematical calculations for his new machine and these were the world's first computer programs. Ada published her work but only used her initials because in those days women couldn't be scientists.

2. A Forgotten Composer

Louise Farrenc (1804-1875) came from a family of artists but decided to take up music. At seventeen, she married another musician and they had a daughter. In her twenties, Louise started to compose music and her works were popular around Europe. In 1842, she became the first woman teacher at the Paris Conservatory. Louise's daughter was a brilliant pianist and often performed her mother's works. When her daughter died young, Louise stopped composing music forever.

3. George or Mary Ann?

George Eliot was a great nineteenth-century novelist but George's real name was Mary Ann Evans (1819-1880). Mary Ann couldn't leave home until she was thirty because she had to look after her father. After his death, she went to London and became a writer. Mary Ann used a man's name because people did not take women writers seriously. Mary Ann believed in women's rights and her novels about life in small English towns look at women's place in society.

4. Mexican Magic

Frida Kahlo (1907-1954) was born in Mexico City. She had polio when she was young but studied to be a doctor. Then one day, while she was travelling on a bus, there was a terrible accident. When Frida was recovering in hospital, she started painting and worked with bright colours. In 1927, she married the painter, Diego Rivera. Frida was famous as his wife but her paintings only became very well-known after her death. After the accident, Frida was often in pain and you can see this in her strong, colourful self-portraits.

NOMADS

For nomads, being on the move is part of everyday life. Some move to look for food for their animals or themselves, others travel to buy and sell things. Actually, there are not many nomads left in the world nowadays but some nomadic people still survive.

The Reindeer People

The Sami live in northern Scandinavia. Most of them now have 'normal' jobs in towns and cities but some carry on their traditional way of life. In early summer they go on a long journey north with their reindeers. The Sami take them far into the Arctic Circle to find grass and plants to eat. When autumn begins, they take the reindeers south again. Nowadays, the Sami use snowmobiles and mobile phones when they are looking after their animals. However, they still wear their colourful costumes and sing their traditional songs.

Desert Survivors

The word 'Bedouin' means 'desert inhabitant'. Many Bedouins live in towns in Arabia and North Africa but some still make trips into the desert to get food for their camels. The camels, or 'ships of the desert', carry everything and provide food (milk and meat) and shelter (wool for tents).

Bedouin hospitality is famous: they give strangers food and water. Bedouins know many tricks to find water. For example, when they see insects or birds, they know water is near.

Sea Gypsies

The Moken are often called 'sea gypsies'. Some follow their traditional lifestyle in the coastal areas of Thailand and Myanmar. During the rainy season, when the sea is rough, they live in huts on the beach but for the rest of the year they live on their boats. They catch seafood and sell it in fishing villages. Moken children learn to swim before they can walk. They can see underwater twice as clearly as the rest of us and can stay underwater twice as long! The Moken people know the sea very well – before the tsunami in 2005, they left the sea and looked for high ground.
